SOJOURN 1992

Norton High School
Norton, Massachusetts

Extra! Extra! Sojourn is here! The Norton High Seniors are in the headlines this year. From the sports section to Arts and Entertainment, from the comics to the front page, the seniors are making news. From the first weeks of classes and fall sports until walking across the stage at graduation, local pa-

USA TOMORROW

Class of 1992 Conquers the world

World of Arts & Entertainment

Arts and entertainment influence much of today's world. Norton High's class of 1992 was an entertaining group in high school but now many have made a living out of it. Matt Kirrane after a successful college basketball career has now started broadcasting basketball games for CBS. Matt Arnold, the master of pun himself, has conquered late night as he replaced David Letterman on NBC. Actress Deb Woodason has found fame in Hollywood, her latest role is starring on Saturday Night Live. Co-producers Stephen Spielberg and Shawn Bertram have made a fantastic movie, The Followers of a Crowd starring Nicole Vassalotti and Lori Murphy. Gene Siskel, Roger Ebert, and Erica Lindsay give three thumbs up to the movie which is based upon the number one best seller by Kristy Cambell. Lindsay adds that the special effects work by Jessica Murray should be a definite consideration when the Oscars come out. Karolyn Harrison has brought her art world to the movies with her animation of the Walt Disney movie An American Tale, Part 8: Fievel Goes Insane. Bringing her art out to the real world, however, Tina Thompson has opened her own line of clothes, Tina Marie. Sally Gately, who owns her own art gallery in Paris, has included creative artist April Breach in her most recent art exhibit. April has been called the greatest artist in the twenty-first century.

Norton alums have battled the music world as well. Karen Hancock, after leaving a prominent career in the Boston Symphony Orchestra, has taken her clarinet to a higher level, Hip Hop! Manager Ellen Flynn is hand picking her hard rock band from world famous bass guitarist Alex Thompson to drummer Stephen Zitta.

World of Business

Years of hard work for Norton High's class of 1992 is paying off in the business world. Many have crushed their competitors into the ground while others have just taken over. Michelle Demas is buying clothes for Bloomingdales owner Tracey Bianchini. Sarah Norko has kept in touch with High School friends as many are now using her advertising agency to further their business. Norko's work with Marriot Hotels has made Bridget Hayward's great smile even greater. Sean Mahoney and Jared Thibault are owners of their own fortune five-hundred company "Dream On"; each has a private jet, helicopter, sports car, and a mansion on his own Caribbean island. Melissa Zabala is still a kid at heart, designing and producing toys for F.A.O. Swartz. Lisa Giordano has become a business manager, managing her husband, hockey star Gayman LaParfume. Jeannene Doherty has capitalized in domestic affairs profiting by investing much of her corporate take-over money in stock. Profiting internationally are Leiah Myers and Kristie Hupe who commute to Europe in their privately owned Concord Jet daily. Two women working domestically as well as internationally are Elaine Maher and Danielle Castrechini who work for the United Nations translating for Japan and Spain respectively. Closer to home is Lynda O'Connell who is a public relations executive for Robin Carnie who owns her own business in Weymouth. Even closer to home is Kimberly Todd who has bought out all the Norton pizza shops with the dream of making Norton the "Pizza Capitol of the World." Both Greg Trent and Tricia Ruffing have moved far away. Greg owns a surf shop in Hawaii featuring OT (Ocean Trent) line of surf wear. Tricia has cornered the market on Oriental bath beads.

In other business news, Nortonites have taken hold of the wheel and are driving the automotive world. Bill Jordan has revolutionized the foreign world car makers with his newly designed Porsche. Shawn McGuinness and Matt Giroux, owners of GMC, are now trying hard to design and manufacture the world's fastest car — "A hobby," they say. Sean Cote has been recognized as the ace mechanic behind the design of the motor.

Engineering has been revolutionized by some of today's brightest graduates. Dave Fernandes is a marine engineer on a yacht with his father making sure they do not become a statistic of the Bermuda Triangle. Nathan Fantasia is a mechanical engineer designing an engine for his auto-riding lawn mower. Rick Lehmkuhl is a chemical engineer working for Calvin Klein creating his perfume "Mercedes"; the car like smell is sure to lure any man. Civil engineer Greg Taylor is presently busy building a super high rise that will be used for the first Super McDonald's. Chad Solomon is the head computer engineer for Nintendo.

When it comes to the children of today, Norton's class is making a business out of it. High School friends Karen Cahill and Darnyelle Cavallaro have started the first national day care center having a unique feature that lets preschoolers in Florida play with blocks and finger paints in Hawaii for a semester. Lisa Stanovitch is living on Sesame Street teaching second graders their ABC's. Diana Huntress is trying to teach a bunch of five year old prodigies calculus.

Dominica Parma and Sharon Weldon have collaborated in Maine adding and subtracting in their own private accounting office. Dana Smith has taken his math skills to a higher level and is now counting for corporate big whigs. Jeannette Landon is doing a great job back home in Norton as the town accountant. Rebecca Correia has taken her math talents south of the border to Aruba where she is counting the number of sand particles in the beaches.

Norton High's class of 1992 has certainly conquered a fair share of the business world, and, as David Hunt will tell you, "It is a jungle out there." David is currently a professional dreamer dreaming of his Ferrari, Porsche, and mansion in the Bahamas. George Carr is tending bar on some unknown island. Michelle Byrnes, the fourth wife of baseball great Jose Canseco, is working close to home in Mansfield, MA at Sweet-N-Crafty. Hairdressers Amy Wynn and Jen Cronin are styling hair for Hollywood stars farmers' wives in rural Connecticut, respectively. Lynn Hagstrom, living in Norton is a personal secretary to the Mayor of Norton, while secretary Lorraine Mohan is working in Florida for a boss she says "is the nicest boss to work for."

World of Medicine

Due to a recent influx of medical genius from Norton, medical barriers are falling left and right. New England's proudest contribution to the medical society is the recent construction of the Norton Memorial Hospital. The first major breakthrough that the hospital can boast of came from the research lab. Former drum major Matt Zawasky has conquered the common cold with the help of assistants Nancy Snedburg and Melissa Pineo. Matt says that it was an accident; when his bottle of Jolt spilled on a piece of bread mold, he discovered the antibiotic. Dr. Matt Todesco is the acting chief-of-staff for the hospital and is reaping the benefits by purchasing a Cape Cod estate. Dr. Brandye King assisted by Dr. Russel Bishop is on the verge of the most important medical breakthrough since the development of the Polio vaccine — they are about to announce the cure for AIDS. The children's department is well taken care of with Melissa Hiltz and Heather Mello giving all their attention to the cute little ones. In the Psychiatric wing, Psychologist Denise McDermott is making remarkable progress solving the psychological problems of Norton.

Heath Mullett and Brian Graber are recuperating from injuries suffered in the fight for the right to call Kraft Macaroni and Cheese, Kraft Cheese and Macaroni. Doctor Melanie Turgeon has almost successfully rehabilitated Jessica Merrill, the "Dictator of Existence." In the treatment of animals, Jen Powers is receiving excellent recognition in the veterinarian world with her two lobotomy operations on Lassie and Benji.

World of Law

You can give Norton High a hearty handshake because justice is being served all over the world by former Norton students. In New York, Kim Andrews and her style of cross examination has made her an unbeatable force when she argues cases. Jen O'Neil has just been hired by the Nabisco Company to defend them in a multi-million dollar court case involving Keebler, represented by Scott Brown. On the western front, Michelle Sigman is making a name for herself in Arizona by winning the biggest cattle rustling case in U.S. history. Overseas, Norton can also be proud of its students. John Bertone and Julie Wedge has been hired by Prince Charles and Princess Di to do royal legal work.

In other news relating to law, Selectman and Officer of Norton, Chris Cox often finds officer Chris "Veto" Vittorini listening to rap tapes. Curtis "Hot Rod" Everett was recently commended for apprehending one of the world's "10 Most Wanted." Finally in the world of law, Scott Kennedy has received a medal of honor for being wounded in the line of duty during a recent drug operation. Jeremy Godwin was the paramedic on duty that saved Scott's life.

A Different World

Norton has produced many unique people who have succeeded in their own way. Geoff Romanowicz, who has temporarily left the circus where he was the elephant dung scooper-upper, to travel to North Dakota with his wife, The Bearded Lady, to find out if really there are "Any signs of intelligent life out there." Due to unfortunate circumstances, Mike Masone and a boat full of Miss Universe contestants were stranded on Gilligan's Island. Mike has now cornered the beach market in coconut selling. After years in a monastery, Dave Ryder has decided to leave and become a goat herder in the Andes Mountains. Dave says that he is a little cold but living in eternal bliss.

World of Travel

Traveling the world is an adventurous task that many Norton grads have decided to undertake. People traveling the seas marvel at the places that can be reached on Stacy May's cruise ship, The Love Boat II. Plush cabins kept up by Allyson Bell, the loving wife of the captain, make rough sailing rather enjoyable. Professional traveler Nathalia Suchier says, "I'd rather swim than take any other boat." In the air, Jamie Blackwood's Party Plane is slamming with the wild crowd. When things get dull at thirty-thousand feet, flight attendant Kerri DiNatale is quick to grab a passenger and go Bungee Jumping out of "The party in the sky." Professional traveler Henning Hesse is a frequent flyer on Jamie's "Party Plane."

Norton alums have done their best to help save humanity. Social worker Rufina Kennedy has helped Lenny Dwyer find direction by piecing his many money making ideas together. Meanwhile, Beth Hantavis, also a social worker, is aiding Kristen Stelmack in the search to find the meaning of life.

World of Sports

The sports world has also been flooded with waves of former Norton Lancer stars. Baseball star Chris Vinson, representing the Boston Red Sox, has recently been elected starting third baseman for the American League. Another extraordinary athlete is Jeff Wood who has set another motor cross record; this one for this twentieth consecutive win on his self-designed bike. Another record setter is Chris Paré whose four hundred thirteen miles per hour is the fastest recorded NASCAR speed. While in the same sport, driver Keith Nason has just won his first Daytona 500. Tyson Martin is to face Norton's tennis superstar long time idol André Agassi in the U.S. Open finals. Jeff O'Sullivan is putting the rest of the National Hockey League on ice as he was brought up to play center for the Boston Bruins earlier in the season. Injuries have also impeded many Norton alumni. But with the likes of Athletic Trainer Jim Mitchell, who gained renowned fame with his work on the knee of Toronto Argonauts' megastar wide receiver, Paul Staffier, the future looks bright. Jim will now try to work his magic on the Minnesota Vikings' place kicker, Mark Ludwick. More and more athletic trainers and physical therapists are being used to combat sports injuries. University of Florida has hired Stephanie LaCriox, a highly qualified athletic trainer, as their new director of fitness; while the San Francisco Forty-Niners have hired Physical Therapist Kristen Dumont to assist Pamala Koch with the rehabilitation of their players. The waves crashed down heavily on Major League hopeful Rickey Starratt whose only two pitching performances were impressive but an injury to his shoulder has given him a new life as a feature writer for Sports Illustrated. Even in management these Nortonites are getting their feet wet, as Matt "Dino" Shute has taken over ownership of the Boston Celtics.

HEY SENIORS

You Know You're a Senior When . . .

. . . you know the exact second the bell will ring.
. . . you actually look forward to going to sleep.
. . . you stop getting dressed up for school.
. . . your advisors hunt you down for the money you owe.
. . . you don't care what other people think about you.
. . . all you ever think about is graduation.
. . . you need money and your parents won't give it to you.
. . . everybody seems to know you but you don't know everyone.
. . . you walk into the bathroom and recognize all the phone numbers on the wall.
. . . you get "spring fever" before Christmas.
. . . freshmen say "ma'ma" and "sir" to you.
. . . the real world doesn't seem so far away.

. . . you say move and the hallway splits like the Red Sea.
. . . lunch means Big Mac instead of Beef and Bacon Burger.
. . . you don't make it to homeroom anymore.
. . . Mr. Gorman is your personal friend.
. . . you spend more time in guidance than you do in class.
. . . everybody asks you where you are going to college next year.
. . . you get more junk mail than your parents.
. . . you actually start worrying about passing tests.
. . . you don't care about homework because college deadlines are driving you crazy.
. . . days go by like hours used to.
. . . the juniors start treating you like you've already graduated because they want to rule the school.
. . . you come home with piles of paper for college applications.
. . . you think about being a freshman all over again in college.

You Know You're in Jeopardy When . . .

CAPRICORN — (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) One day you wake up and realize that yesterday was the last day of the rest of your life and that today is the first day of your next life as a Rocky Mountain Goat Herder. You will find the most riches in love.

AQUARIUS — (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You will suddenly realize that the end of the world is coming and the only way to stop the Armageddon is to not hate the Cover Girl girl because she is beautiful. You are a strong willed person whose perseverance will soon pay off.

PICES — (Feb. 20-March 20) Soon a little birdy will tell you the secret of life, Slap that silly bird up side the head and say "You are a bird, you do not know anything!" See the glass as half full — an optimistic view will be the key to a happy life.

ARIES — (March 21-April 19) You ram followers march to a different drummer, often to a heavy metal drummer. Most of you will be very successful but those who aren't will marry success.

TAURUS — (April 20-May 20) Those who follow the Taurus sign are usually drawn to the depths of the Earth, North Dakota, where you learn to associate with the visiting aliens from outer space. You will find love where you seek it.

GEMINI — (May 21-June 20) In the near future you will win the lottery, but because one-thousand others picked the same numbers, you now owe the lottery two-hundred dollars. You hold others close to you and these friends will be very helpful the rest of your life.

CANCER — (June 21-July 20) Some day in the distant future you will be walking in the mall and you will pass gas very loudly causing all your friends to avoid you like the plague. Your originality and creativity will turn dreams into reality.

LEO — (July 23-Aug. 22) Upon landing your first big job, you become overcome with overflowing glee because flipping burgers has been your inner secret passion for years. The lion symbolizes courage and bravery which will soon play heavily in your life.

VIRGO — (August 23-Sept. 22) Beware of falling pianos, they will someday be the death of you. Also beware of those flakes because you never get a second chance to make a first impression. Your hard work ethic is going to start paying big dividends soon.

LIBRA — (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) While on a beach somewhere in Florida, you will see your dream date emerge from the waves, stroll up to you in a skimpy bathing suit, and as you gaze up into his or her eyes, he or she will laugh and say "Sorry wrong towel." Your sensitivity and loyalty are your best traits; never lose sight of this.

SCORPIO — (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The day you finally buy your new sports car some old geezer going fifty m.p.h. backends you at a red light; the old guy never missed a beat and drove off never to be seen again. Your "never say die attitude" will earn you a fortune someday.

SAGITTARIUS — (Nov. 23-Dec.21) On your twenty-eighth birthday you will receive the biggest and best present of your life — A huge Zit on the tip of your nose (and you thought you were past puberty)! Soon love will strike you down; but it will be love that picks you up and carries you to euphoria.

the Time Has Come to Say Good-bye

Our time has come to say good-bye
To memories that are gone, but will never die.

Good-bye to the scared faces of freshman year,
Such times of bewilderment are no longer here.

Good-bye to the year they called us Sophomores,
Our inspirations and perspiration opened new doors.

Good-bye to the first year we were called upper class,
After all the struggling we were juniors at last.

Good-bye to the coveted senior year,
And the four years of learning that brought us here.

Good-bye to our teachers, we owe them a lot,
The gift of their knowledge could never be bought.

Good-bye to the lessons we learned these four years,
We matured, battled, and conquered our fears.

Good-bye to the Lancers, our purple and white,
Forget not how valiantly we fought our fight.

Good-bye for now to our closest friends,
May new friendships form, but old ones not end.

Good-bye to high school and things in the past,
New lives have begun, let us leave at last.

Now that our good-byes have all been said,
The time has come to look ahead.

And though our journey is at an end,
Hello . . . It has just begun!

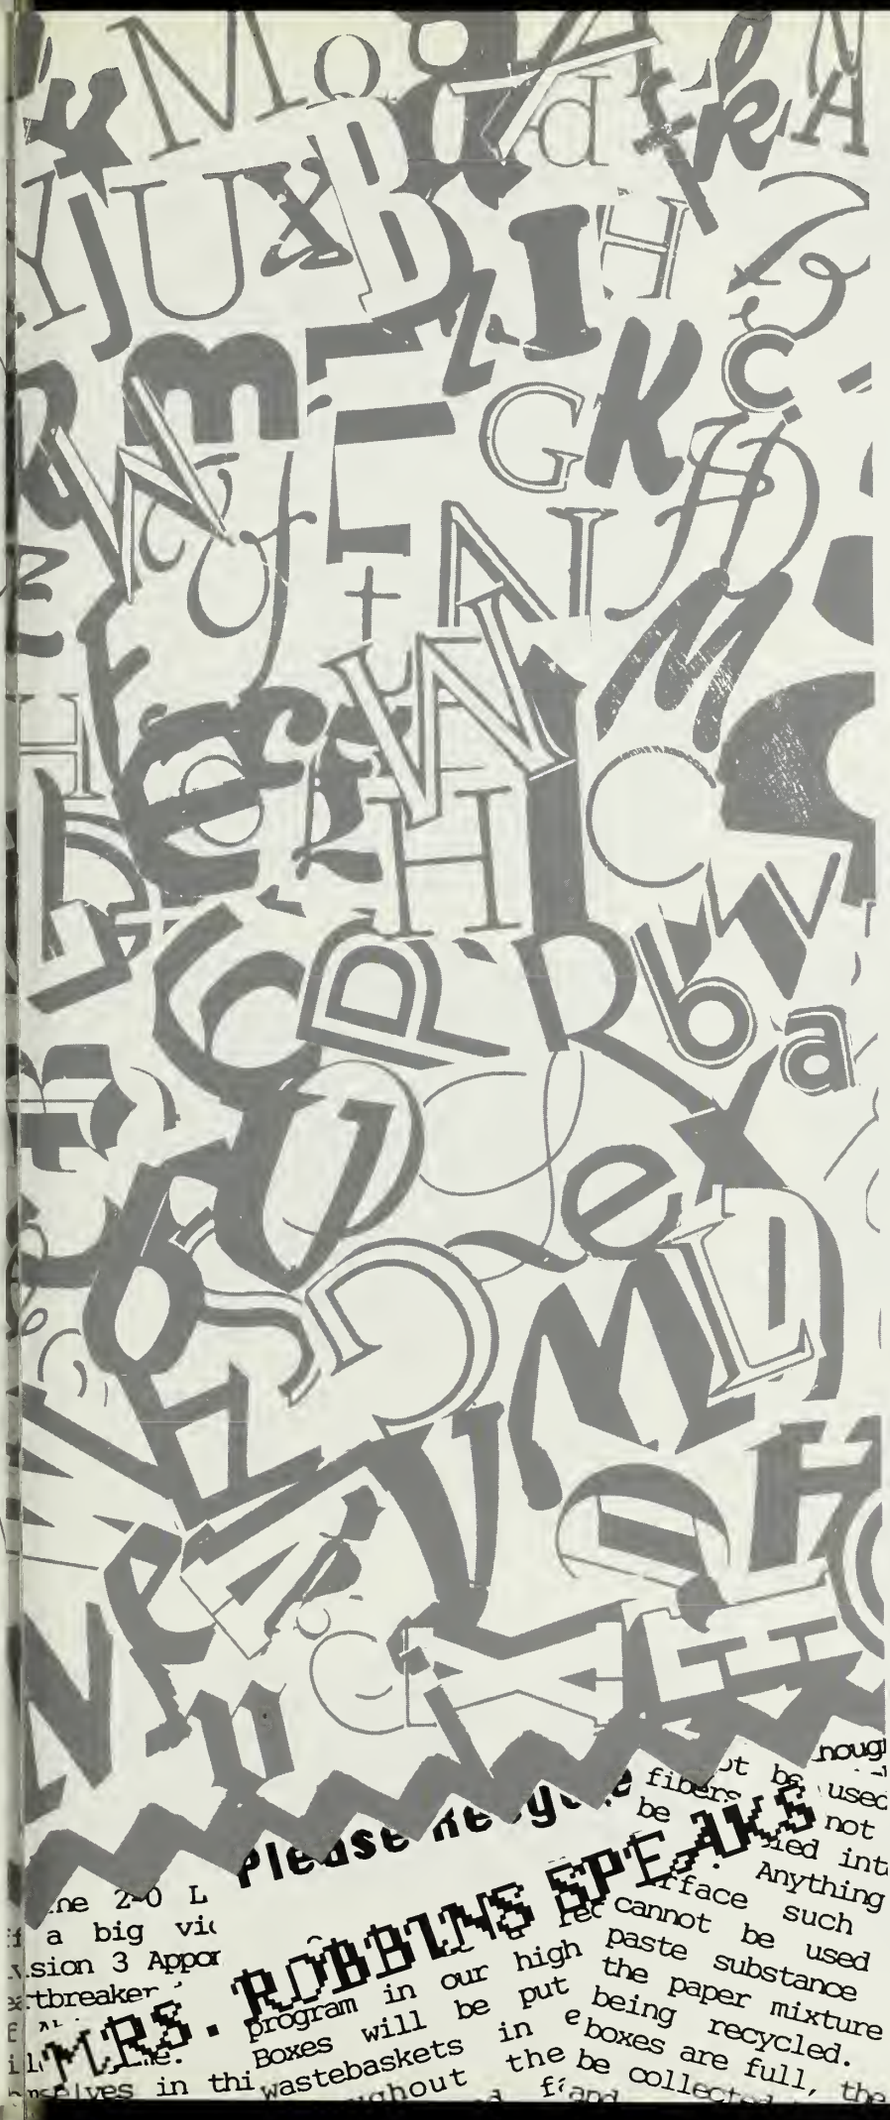
HEADLINERS

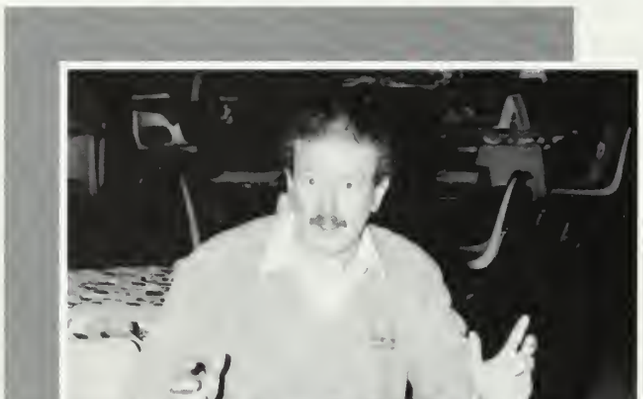


NORTON TEACHERS HONOR

Creativity

Mrs. Veronica Gagnon is known for her creativity and friendship. Her talent adds a special touch to all school events and the total school environment. At the same time she is a friend to all and someone who develops talent and interest in art, thus giving many students an interest which they carry with them into the "real world."

Caring



Dedication

Drama

Mrs. Beatrice Smith has been one of Norton High's most dedicated teachers for many years. This year she came to our rescue to help us with our senior play. Spring Break would not have been the same without her and we appreciate her hard work, dedication, and friendship.

RED FOR . . .

Fairness

Friendship

Mr. Philip Gorman is a very special person. Can anyone hand out detentions and suspensions and still be loved by all. Mr. G. can! Despite his role as disciplinarian, Mr. Gorman's friendship and fairness is appreciated by Norton's students. He supports us in many ways — especially as advisor to student council and is always willing to listen and lend a hand.

Application

Advice

Mr. Rene Tellier spends his days helping and advising us about future plans. Many of us will be off to school next year because of Mr. Tellier's encouragement and effort. We don't know how he has the patience to deal with our procrastination and confusion, but we're glad he does!

Learning

Laughter

Mr. Lawrence Brassard's classes are an enjoyable part of his students' days. His ability to combine laughter and learning creates an educational environment in which students learn a great deal about science as well as the importance of looking at life with a sense of humor.

During their third year of high school, the juniors, along with their class advisors, Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. Russell, and Mr. Maher have accomplished a great deal. Successful fundraisers have kept the juniors quite busy and increased the class treasury giving them funds for the prom while they eagerly await senior year. The annual Toys for Tots Christmas activity is another side of the class of 93; service to the community and concern for others are not overlooked by this versatile class. A great deal has been accomplished by this enthusiastic group who are now looking forward to an exciting senior year.

As their sophomore year draws to a close the members of the class of '94 are looking forward to the second half of their high school years. They've kept busy this year with fundraisers like candy sales and have shown holiday spirit with their Thanksgiving basket raffle. With help from their advisors, Mrs. McLaughlin, Mr. Milot, and Mrs. Taylor, the future Juniors have had a very successful year.

Bewildered and intimidated, the freshmen entered the high school in September. With the guidance of Mrs. Vital and Mr. Leddy, the freshmen showed their spirit in various ways such as participating in clubs and athletics in far greater numbers than ever before. Freshmen year is now ending with the Class of '94 sponsoring a farewell dance for the seniors. This spirited and enthusiastic class looks forward to three more years of high school.

Christo's II — Last year's Junior Senior Prom was held at the elegant Christo's II where NHS students gathered in their Tuxedos and gowns. After all the pictures were taken, clothes were modeled, and food was eaten, those attending settled down and enjoyed a night to remember with "In Your Eyes" as its theme. After all was said and done Mike Andreason walked away with Queen Kelly Poole and her court. The Junior class did a fine job and everything went well and it will be remembered "in our own eyes" for many years to come.

Renaissance Italy — Elegantly dressed women and fine dressed men met to spend a Renaissance Evening together. It wasn't long before the men shed their tuxedo coats and the women took off their corsages and began having fun. The night was capped off with Sarah Norko being named Queen of her court. She and King Matt Arnold danced happily to an "Unchained Melody." The student council, Spanish Honor Society, National Honor Society, and Art Honor Society's hard work was well perceived through the trip to Renaissance Italy.

Room 241: Seniors who thought designing a yearbook would be just fun soon realized there was work to do as well. Long Friday meetings, tough decisions, and deadlines plagued these members throughout the year. Advisor Miss Clancy should be thanked for her knowledge and hard work as should Co-editors Lisa Giordono and Denise McDermont. The rest of the assistant editors, copy staff, sports staff, photography staff, business staff, typing staff, art staff and underclassmen should be commended for their effort and time in making this year's yearbook one of the best (we hope!)

Norton High's School newspaper, The Lance, got off to a bumpy start this year. Through the determination of a few interested students, though, an adviser was found as Miss Silvi lectured the class. One can often see these budding journalists reporting on school events, collecting ads, or selling candy. Under the leadership of advisor, Miss Silvi, editor-in-chief, Michael DeCosta, and assistant editor, Jeff O'Sullivan, and with the hard work and dedication of the staff, this year's issues of The Lance have been some of the best ones yet!

Zawasky, A. Lincoln.

The Art Room — In its third year, Norton High's literary arts magazine, Local Colour, is again quite a success. Advisors Mrs. Gagnon and Mrs. Robbins have guided the staff in publicity, the selection of work to be published, and layout. Led by co-editors Susan Catalfamo and Jessica Murray, the staff works diligently to publish some of Norton students' best art work and literature.

Homer Paulus Auditorium — A few times a month students representing the school meet in the Homer Paulus Auditorium to discuss upcoming events. Under the direction of Mr. Gorman, Pres. Danielle Castrechini, vice-pres. Sarah Norko, treas. Elaine Maher, and Sec. Melissa Zabala this year's student council has raised money for the Santa Fund, helped support the Semi-Formal along with the Homecoming Ceremonies. Also meeting were the Student Advisory Committee act as a liaison between students, administration, and school committee.

N.H.S. Gym — Who would have believed this year's Pep Club could start a tradition like a bonfire pep rally where all the students gathered around a huge fire and watched a Viking replica standing on a 25 foot high tower burn to the ground. This along with all of the spirited banners and posters around the school are what the pep club is all about. Members try to provide what the school needs most school spirit, led by Pres. Kim Andrews, Vice Pres. Kristen Corriea, Treas. Melissa Zabala, and Sec. Renee Canto. This year's Pep club was pep-pier than ever.

Where is learning about a foreign language and culture fun? At a French club arty, of course. This year advisor Mrs. Russell and Officers Rick Lehmkuhl president), Cindy Cuccinotta (vice-president), Elaine Maher (treasurer), and ristie Hupe (secretary) have organized many exciting events including the nnual Fete des Rois and Mardi Gras celebrations. Not only do the members arn about French traditions and holidays, but they have an excuse to party too!

National Bikes for Scholarships

Rm. 242 — Whether working on a fundraiser or participating in service activities, the members of the National Honor Society are always busy. This group of students is recognized for its dedication to service, scholarship, good character, and leadership. The members portray these qualities in their many endeavors. Advisor Mrs. Robbins and officers Elaine Maher (president), Jessica Murray (vice-president), Matt Zawasky (secretary), Greg Taylor (treasurer), and Sarah Norko (historian) have led the society in many projects including a Halloween Candy sale and ten mile bik-a-thon to raise scholarship money. They have also worked to better Norton High by offering tutoring services and sponsoring the annual College Day for college-bound seniors.

The Art Room — The members of the National Art Honor Society have been working hard this year on their usual numerous fundraisers and activities. Under the direction of Veronica Gagnon and officers Jessica Murray, Rickey Starratt, Sarah Norko, and Leiah Myers, the society met with success in many new endeavors. These included Halloween window painting, the installation of a new snack machine, and the first annual art show at Wheaton College. Through the fundraisers and service projects this group brought color and culture to the town as well as the school.

Hablamos Español

Room 210 — Students of the Alonso Quijana Chapter of the Spanish Honor Society are using their knowledge of Spanish in interesting ways. This year's Society is led by president Danielle Castrechini who is aided by vice-president Rickey Starratt, while Leiah Myers does the treasury books, and secretary Lori Murphy handles all the rest. This society made a major contribution to the Semi-Formal. They play to do many more fundraisers as the year proceeds, with new advisor Senor Maher.

Computer Room — With the exceptional math skills of Jessica Murray and Elaine Maher the Norton High Math Team "reached their max." One major reason for the team's success is the constant efforts of advisor Mrs. Vital. In summation, every member's efforts added up to make this year very productive. Team and individual prizes accumulated throughout the year.

SAVE THE EARTH

The Greenpeace goal is to bring environmental awareness to the faculty and students. Founded in 1990, this group has instituted a successful recycling program throughout the school. Led by Advisor Mr. Bartek, president Kerry Boyd, treasurer Elaine Maher, and art manager Leiah Myers, the members of Greenpeace faithfully empty their recycling boxes every week. At the end of the year all the paper collected is brought to a recylcing center. This group has also done presentations for students at the elementary schools in an effort to spread environmental awareness.

After being absent from Norton High last year, Peer leadership was brought back by popular demand this year. The members of the group are caring and concerned about their fellow students. Under the direction of advisors Mrs. Martin and Mrs. McLaughlin, the members of this group attended a two-day seminar where they learned to be good peer leaders. Then this group made presentations at the Middle School about the dangers of drug abuse and peer pressure. Peer leaders are always glad to lend a helping hand to their fellow high school students as well.

BAND STARS IN HALFTIME

Music Room — Another successful band season has gone by under the direction of Mr. William MacMullen and drum majors Jessica Merrill and Matthew Zawasky. The Norton Lancer band performed a great variety of songs at the football halftime shows which included 'La Paloma,' 'Theme from Hogan's Hero's', 'Jeopardy', and two songs from "The Little Mermaid": 'Part of Your world' and 'Under the sea'.

The band remained active throughout the year, participating in UConn Band day, Quincy Christmas Parade and several other events. As the end of marching season came closer, the band looked forward to the upcoming annual band banquet. Dinner was served, awards were presented, and followed by a fun and exciting dance. It was a great, enjoyable way to end such a successful season.

Music Room — "A high what? B flat? No I could never hit that!" complained a soprano member of chorus. Never say never because with Mr. William MacMullen directing the chorus, the group soared to new heights. The sopranos hit their B flats and all the members pitched in and put on some wonderful concerts and proved their versatile talents.

Adams Field — "I just hope my baton doesn't fly out of my hand and hit some clarinet player," worried the majorette squad. Luckily, it was a successful season without causing harm to others. The majorettes, with Captain Lynn Hagstrom and Feature Twirler Carley Rae twirled their batons while marching right in step with the instrumentalists and flags. It was a spectacular sight to see the interaction of the groups and was proven by the smiles of the crowd as well as on director, Danielle Ricci.

ART SHOW

January 6-17, 1992

"Celebrate the Stars of '92" was the theme of this year's first annual Art Show at Wheaton College. Sponsored by the Art Honor Society, the exhibits included works by the students in grades K-12 from all four Norton Schools. The show was a smashing success. Hundreds of people came on opening night to see the art work as well as to hear the musical performances by members of the High School and Middle School bands. Mrs. Gagnon and the Art Honor Society hope to make the show a yearly tradition in order to increase art awareness and support ties between the Wheaton and Norton Communities.

A DAY WITH THE CLOWNS

Boston Garden: This old building steeped in tradition rang with laughter as students of all ages flocked to the circus. Among the thousands in attendance on October 18, 1991 was a spirited group from Norton High School. Students were amused by the animal acts (and smells), enthralled by the high wire performers, and entertained by the clowns. Painted faces, souvenirs, light sticks, and of course junk food added to the day's enjoyment.

This year's annual senior class play was Spring Break, a rollicking comedy about students who go to Palm Springs to party during their spring break and the amusing problems they encounter. Members of the senior class had as much fun putting on this production as the characters had on their spring break. There was fun for crew as well as cast as many seniors "got involved" with lights, costumes, props, etc. Thanks to the dedication of Mrs. Smith, who directed all of the efforts, the production was a huge success.

NORTON EARNS RESPECT, RELOADS FOR FUTURE

The 5 and 5 Lancers did not bring home any titles this year but did earn respect by winning tough games over ranked opponents, and losing by small margins in all but one defeat. The climax of the 1991 season was a hard fought and emotional last second victory over number one ranked Hanover, a physically powerful team. All star selections included seniors Paul Staffier, Heath Mullett, and Marc Ludwick. The future also looks bright for the Lancers; Ed Potvin's J.V. team posted an impressive record while his Freshman team went undefeated.

Boys' Soccer: Alive + Kicking

Boys' soccer surpassed almost everyone's expectations this year. They finished the season with a record of 7-9-2 in one of the toughest soccer leagues in the state. Captains Geoff Romanowicz and Greg Taylor led the team along with other seniors Rickey Starratt, Scott Kennedy, and Chris Paré. Highlights of the season included a 3-2 victory over Cohasset (Norton's arch-rival in this sport) which eliminated them from the State Tournament, and many all-star nominations for various members of the team including Greg Taylor's selection to the South Shore League All-Star Team. Next year's team hopes to fare even better: and there's no reason why they shouldn't with talent like Jason Bernardo, Brian Scanlon and "Freshman Sensation" Adam Norko.

NEW COACH SEES NEW LIFE

New Coach Kevin MacCaffrey saw impressive performances from senior captains and All Stars Michelle Byrnes and high scorer Sarah Norko. The J.V. team felt out its competition in this first year. The success of the team was reflected by the team's lack of injuries a problem that had, in the past, impeded their progress. The four win season secured them a position as an up and coming South Shore League contender. The teams of the future will certainly open eyes, with many returning starters looking to show their stuff.

CHEERING — GIVE A CHEER FOR NORTON CHEERLEADERS

During all basketball home games and football games there is an unmistakable yell that comes from our own Norton Cheerleaders. This group of girls led by Captains Danielle Castrechini, Darnyelle Cavallaro, and Melissa Zabala along with fellow senior Kristen Dumont, was peppier than ever with their calls of "Purple + White." Second year Coach Lauren Ricci will bring these enthusiastic girls into competition during, the winter months when they hope to win the South Shore League Competition. This squad also has many talented Juniors like Tina DeMarco and Kira McCarthy who will lead the squad next year.

SETTING UP A GREAT SEASON

First year Coach Peter Leddy coached this year's squad to a fine season. Co-Captains Stephanie LaCroix and Juliana Wheeler helped lead the team to a 10-8 record stopping just one game short of the state tournament. Two Lady Lancers played way above the net this year; Kim Andrews and Melanie Kiely both made all-star teams. Despite losing six seniors, next year's team looks to be good as well, especially considering that the JV team lost just one game.

LOOK OUT TEAM KENYA

The cross country team is working its way up the competitive ladder. After posting a 1-11 record last year the team and Coach Rukstalis had hopes for a better times and got them. The team ran its way to an eye opening 4-9 League record. The maturity of older runners like senior captains Matt Shute, Matt Zawasky and senior Russel Bishop along with the improvement of younger runners allowed this minor miracle to occur. Next year will certainly be a good one; increased participation will bolster a Lancer team that has the potential to push past the .500 mark with five returning lettermen leading the way.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Young? Maybe but good? Definitely. The Lady Lancers blew the doors off most of the South Shore League this year, thanks mainly to the play of Captains Rachel Sayce and Jeannette Landon. The Lancers held first place throughout most of the season and it wasn't until a late season heartbreaker against Abington that they relinquished their strong hold. The girls were even ranked in the top 20 in the state. Major Contributors to this team were Randi Carine, Melanie Kiely, and a pair of freshmen Jen Kirrane and Renee Sayce, with all but Jeannette returning the Lady Lancers should contend for the state title next year.

Boys Basketball: Lancers shouting for the Stars

Above the calls of "Patience, Patience, Patience," by Coach Kelley, the yelling and screaming of the fans was heard. This screaming and yelling was for the great play of the boys' basketball team led by Tri-Captains Greg Taylor, Matt Kirrane, and Matt "Dino" Shute. These Lancers probably would have coasted easily to a league title if it weren't for their games in Rockland. The excited fans screamed loudly for the 3 point shooting of Matt Kirrane, the dunking of Paul Staffier, and the shooting of Scott Martin, the passing of Rickey Starratt and defense of Greg Taylor.

Gibson's Girls Go To Bat

The 1991 season for Gibson's Girls was a year to remember. The Lancers played their hearts out on the diamond and finished in 2nd place in the South Shore League with a 14-6 mark. Led by senior captains Jill Grogan and Laurie Weiser, the Lancers lost a couple of heartbreakers last year to Carver, Abington, and in the Tournament to Dighton-Rehoboth. Next year will be an even more exciting year — look for another trip into the Tournament and even a South Shore League Title. Look for Michelle Byrnes, Sarah Norko, Randi Carine, and Beth Hantavis to do a lot of damage. Good Luck Girls!!!

Tournament Bound!!!

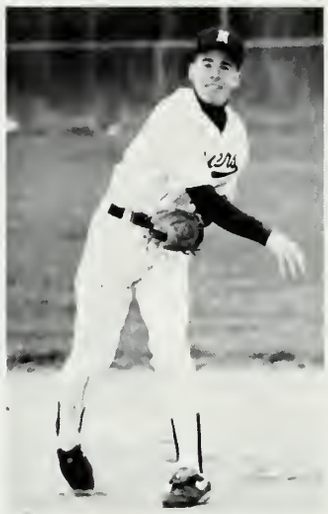
BASEBALL

MOLICA MEN DO IT AGAIN



The pinstripes were alive again in '91 working to gain a berth in the state tournament for the 14th consecutive year. Compiling a 14-6 record, while led by captains Mike Cruff, Tyke Caldwell, and Dom Eno, was good enough for 2nd place in a tough South Shore League. Despite losing a heartbreaker in the tournament the season was filled with great emotional moments such as Rick Starratt's no hitter in the second game, Jim Mitchell's 2 home runs in Carver, and the speed of Ryan Walsh's fastball. This year's Lancers should be even better with returning seniors including Tri-Captains Mark Ludwick, Jim Mitchell and Rick Starratt. Look for Adams field to be a place where the Lancers bury all opponents who come on Lancer turf.

BOYS' TENNIS TEAM SERVES UP A SEASON

1991 proved to be a challenging year for the boys' tennis team, finishing fourth in a highly competitive league. Captain Matt Hill had a successful year, establishing a new record for singles' victories. Other members included Vijay Popat, Mike O'Shea, and Brian McGovern. Next year's team looks good as well for Coach Bob Maher when Captains Steve Maher, Bill Jordan, and Tyson Martin help to make their presence felt in the South Shore League.

BIG CHALLENGE LIES AHEAD FOR LANCER GIRLS

Coach Terry Mullen had to be disappointed when her girls' tennis team missed the States, but also had to be pleasantly surprised by the performance of her younger players. The Lancers were a tough team to beat in the South Shore League last year, notching several victories over difficult opponents, led by seniors Holly Beileau, Lori Boyden and Kim Braga. This year's season looks promising for the growing team, seniors Lisa Satanovitch, Melissa Hiltz and Danielle Castrechini will have their hands full dealing with the League without the services of their departed leaders.

First Row, L to R: D. Castrechini, L. Stanovitch, K. Boyd, J. Wheeler, C. Sirois. Second Row: M. Hiltz, L. Dennis, L. Boyden, H. Bileau, K. Braga, E. Goldman, T. Mullen.

BOYS' TRACK

INDIVIDUALS SHINE FOR LANCERS

Although the boys' track team did not tear up the South Shore League, it did offer fierce competition to many teams . . . even when over matched. Seniors Bumpy Greene, Ron Mullett, Scott Millard, Jeff Hirsh, Jake Dennett, and Mike Foley all turned in outstanding individual efforts throughout the spring season. Coach Rukstalis is again counting on his seniors to gain some valuable points against tough league competition.

Front Row, L to R: L. Dwyer, M. Wagner, C. DeMartino, J. Scherma, B. DeCamp, J. Robbins, C. Zawasky, L. Taylor, G. Taylor, M. Masone, S. Mahoney, G. Makrin. Second Row, L to R: Coach Rukstalis, B. GIRLS' TRACK "WINS ONE FOR THE CLAYSTER."

Coach Dave Clay saw a marked improvement in the performance of his girls' track team in 1991, his last season with the team. The 4x100m relay team, consisting of senior Paula Hunt and returning letterwomen Sue McKenny, Maureen Kelleher and Kelly MacCaffrey, set a new school record, qualified for the state meet, and went undefeated in the league. This year's team, a combination of youth, experience, and talent, should propel new coach, Larry Larocque's team to tops in the South Shore League.

Sojourn

As Sojourn 1992 comes to an end, we would like to leave the yearbook staff something to remember along with our thanks and appreciation

Lisa Stanovitch: a collection of baby pictures
Geoff Romanowicz: a list of deadlines
Darnyelle Cavallaro and Karen Cahill: the senior section
Sarah Norko: mounting board and India ink
Leiah Myers: a collection of cut up letters
Mrs. Gagnon: headaches and thanks from the art staff and Miss Clancy
Kristie Hupe and Danielle Castrechini: ad contracts
Jessica Murray: a collection of headlines
Rickey Starratt: words, words, words
Jeff O'Sullivan, Michelle Byrnes, and Greg Taylor: a pile of newspapers and rubber cement
Elaine Maher and Lori Murphy: picture files to organize
To the rest of the staff: many thanks

We would like to especially thank Miss Clancy for all her help and her yearbook expertise. Thank you all.

Sincerely,

Lisa Giordano
Denise McDermott
